ITEM 7: REQUIREMENTS FOR STATE-REGISTERED ADVISERS.

Not applicable.

Explanations of Designations:

CFA®: (Chartered Financial Analyst)

To earn this designation, you must have four years of qualified investment work experience, become a member of CFA® Institute, pledge to adhere to the CFA® Institute's Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis, apply for membership to a local CFA® member society, and complete the CFA® Program. The CFA® Program is organized into three levels, each culminating in a six-hour exam. The major areas of study are Ethics, Quantitative Analysis, Economics, Accounting, Security Analysis, and Portfolio Management.

In addition to producing an array of industry-supported events, educational opportunities and publications, the CFA® Institute has devised a volunteer-based education program that recommends that members complete a minimum of 20 hours of continued education (CE) activities, including a minimum of two hours of standards, ethics and regulatory education each calendar year. Members have autonomy over the activities they engage in as long as they follow two broad requirements: The activity should be educational in nature and geared toward increasing the knowledge, skills and abilities of an investment professional and the educational content should relate to one or more of the Topics for Investment Professionals (TIPs) or a topic that a member deems individually relevant for his or her unique professional responsibilities.

Members receive credit for their continuing education by keeping a CE journal and then receive recognition for meeting annual milestones in their programs. The CFA® Institute recognizes these milestones by providing certificates signifying program completion and by publishing the names of CE members in CFA® publications.

ITEM 7: REQUIREMENTS FOR STATE-REGISTERED ADVISERS.

Not applicable.

Explanations of Designations:

CFP®: (Certified Financial Planner)

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold a CFP® certification.

To attain the right to use the CFP® designation, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP® Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and as of January 2007, attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP® Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and Client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP® Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

APMA®: (Accredited Portfolio Management Advisor)

The APMA® program is a designation program for financial professionals. The program educates advisors on the finer points of portfolio creation, augmentation, and maintenance.

Upon completion of the APMA®, graduates earn direct credit for:

- Course FP513 in Kaplan's College for Financial Planning CFP® certification education program or
- One elective course in the College's Master of Science Degree in Personal Financial Planning.
